ABOUT AIR&ME

Passionate about innovative technologies and design, sporty and dynamic, Nicolas Planté is sensitive to the issues of air quality. In 2006, the Indoor Air Quality Observatory published a first report on the air quality of French housing. It doesn't take much more to convince Nicolas Planté to embark on the adventure: he creates Air Naturel, with a simple objective: to improve the quality of indoor air. Ten years later, the company evolves and becomes air&me, the French brand for everything relating to indoor air treatment.

As there is no single solution, air&me offers a variety of products and solutions adapted to each situation or environment, whether for purifying, humidifying, dehumidifying, ventilating, heating or diffusing essential oils. The goal? Combine the useful with the pleasant, by reconciling innovation and aesthetics in order to present appliances that are both efficient and design, which can even become "decorative objects" in their own right!

AIR&ME. MY AIR. MY HEALTH. ME.
